

Learning More Has Never Been Easier!

Allison Transmission is dedicated to providing our customers and technicians with the latest technical information and resources. Through Allison HUB™, web-based service training is available for fleets and end users at no cost.

Web-Based Service Training

Web modules currently include product familiarization, preventive maintenance and basic diagnostic information for Allison's most popular on-highway transmissions – the 1000 Series™, 2000 Series™, 3000 Series™ and 4000 Series™ automatic transmissions. Each module typically takes less than one hour to complete and provides information covering fundamental operational theory, maintenance and service procedures.

Available Web Modules:

- Product Familiarization
- Preventive Maintenance
- Torque Converter Operational Theory
- J1939 Troubleshooting
- Service Issues
- Allison DOC® for Fleets (FuelSense®)
